agencies are provided only to facilitate manual procedures. You hereby acknowledge that you are fully aware that communications via the Internet may be subject to interference or interception by others, that the portal does not replace the available information through the official authorities, and that requests and administrative procedures can be taken directly before the competent authorities. Therefore, resorting to this portal remains at your own risk. We are not in any way responsible for any loss or damage of any kind that you may incur due to your use or visit to the portal or your reliance on any statement, opinion, or announcement on the portal or what may result from any delays in operation, connection failures, internet access problems, equipment or software malfunctions, behavior or thoughts of any person accessing this portal. You hereby acknowledge and agree that your sole and exclusive means of remedying any damage or loss that may occur as a result of your entry or use of this portal is to refrain from using or accessing it or not to continue to do so.

Compensation:

You hereby acknowledge not to take any action against the portal of the Saudi Energy Efficiency Center or any of its departments and to compensate and secure it from liability, as well as any parties, employees or agents who are responsible for managing, maintaining, or updating the portal of the Saudi Energy Efficiency Center, from all obligations and responsibilities that may arise in connection with any claim arising from any breach by you of the Terms and Conditions of Use or of any applicable laws whether in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia or the place in which you reside.

Termination of Use:

We may, at our absolute discretion, terminate, limit, or suspend your right to access and use the portal without notice and for any reason, including violating the terms and conditions of use or any other behavior that we may consider in our sole discretion illegal or harmful to others. In the event of termination, you will not be authorized to access this portal.

1. This portal is technically supervised by the Information Technology Department, and all materials available on this portal, including graphics of information and software (contents) are protected by copyright, trademarks, and other forms of proprietary rights.

2. Since one of the main objectives of the portal is to raise awareness and enrich culture for the portal's users and visitors, only the personal user and non-profit use are allowed to benefit from the portal's content and any information published thereon.
3. On the other hand, it is not permissible in any way to sell, license, rent, modify, copy, reproduce, reprint, upload, advertise, transmit, distribute, publicly display, edit, or create derivative works from any materials or contents of this portal for public or commercial purposes without obtaining the prior written approval of the Saudi Energy Efficiency Center in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia.
4. It is strictly prohibited to modify any of the contents of the portal. The graphics and images in this portal are protected by copyright and may not be reproduced or exploited in any way without the prior written consent of the Saudi Energy Efficiency Center in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia.

Judicial Reference:

You hereby agree to submit exclusively to the judicial authorities of the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia with regard to all claims and disputes arising from your use of this portal, noting that the Arabic language will be the official language used to resolve any disputes arising from your use of the portal or any of its contents.

General Terms and Conditions:

1. All materials and information available on the portal are educational and not-for-profit.
2. Arabic language is the primary language for using the portal and benefiting from all the materials published on it. The translation of any of these materials is intended to provide an added service. Accordingly, the available translation shall not be relied upon in interpreting any dispute about the content of the portal.
3. All laws and regulations published on the portal, whether related to the portal of the Saudi Energy Efficiency Center or other entities, may be subject to translation to interpret their meanings to increase benefit. However, the Arabic text of all these laws and regulations constitutes the main reference. Therefore it is not possible in any way to rely on the special interpretative translation to elicit any information or details.

4. The portal management has set several standards and restrictions for the use of all e-participation channels to ensure the highest desired benefit of the e-participation principle. Your use of these channels is a permanent consent of the standards and restrictions for their use.
5. The Center has the full right to delete or not to publish any comments or posts for portal users that the portal management deems inappropriate.
6. In the event of any inquiries or opinions about the terms of privacy and disclaimer, you can contact the portal management via the contact form on the Contact Us page.
